SHERIFF TELLS OF FINDING OF
MURDERED GIRLDescribes Condition of Hotel
Room in Which Marie Wick
Was Murdered

GIRL TIED TO THE BED

Other Witnesses Describe Minutely Room Plans of Fargo
Hotel

Valley City, Jan. 20.—Sheriff Fred Kramer of Fargo, who took charge of the inquiry into the murder of Miss Marie Wick, of Grygla, Minn., in a Fargo hotel on June 7 last for which William Gummer is on trial in district court here, testified today concerning the condition in which he found the room occupied by the girl on his arrival.

The sheriff identified photographs taken of the girl as she lay tied to the bed and he identified the blood-stained mattress, the blood-stained carpet and the blood-smeared section of the wall paper alongside the bed all introduced in evidence.

Kramer also testified that Gummer told him that morning that his roommate, Andy Brown, had been in the hotel with him during part of the night of the murder.

In describing the bandages used in tying the girl's arms to the bedstead Kramer said that while one hand and wrist was covered with blood the bandage itself had no blood on it.

The sheriff testified also that there was no money in the girl's pocketbook found on the dresser and that there were no cashier's checks in it.

C. E. Matlock, a Fargo undertaker, who testified that he took charge of Miss Wick's body, described the wounds on the head.

Asked how many stitches were taken in the head wounds Matlock said:

"I know that I took 150 and then I got tired counting them."

Mrs. Lawrence on Stand

Mrs. Anna Lawrence, who was owner of the hotel business at the time of the murder, was on the stand yesterday. Mrs. Lawrence identified photographs of the hotel and also the leaf from the hotel register on which Miss Wick registered on her first and only visit to Fargo. The witness also told the names of occupants of rooms at the hotel on the night of the murder. Her testimony revealed that one of the maids at the hotel, May Melas, occupied the room immediately under Room 30, where the crime was committed.

Mrs. Lawrence testified that there were 15 persons on the second floor including children on the night of the murder and that the family of John Van Worst occupied the entire second floor of the annex.

Son Is Called

Fred Lawrence, son of the proprietor, Mrs. Lawrence, was called. He said his age was 27 and that he was an insurance man. At present working at Nome, Barnes county. He was asked as to the employees at the hotel, naming Gummer as clerk and the maids. He did not work regularly at the hotel, but assisted on the books, he testified. He said that Gummer's hours were from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m.

On the night of the murder he was using room 20 and telephoned down to Gummer from upstairs as to whether or not the room was occupied. Gummer said over the phone that it was not. There was a bath in room 20. While here, Gummer was called about one. Myers wanted a check cashed. Called to Myers to come up. This was about 11:40. He then went to bed and to sleep and heard nothing the balance of the night. "I was not out of the room during the night. Bill called me at 7:30 a. m. and said he could not get a response from the girl in room 30. I asked Gummer what seemed to be the matter. Gummer said he had looked over the transom and that the girl was lying in the bed with her head and red spots were on the legs."

Look Over Transom

Fred Lawrence then went to the room, looked over the transom. Then he told Gummer to call the police. The door was locked so he went back to his room and dressed. Again he called the police and also called a doctor. Officer Nelson came and with Dr. Burton entered the room. Sheriff Kramer also came and Police Officer Pickering.

Lawrence then told he went to the room with the officers. They went to room 31. There is a door between rooms 30 and 31. Man in 31 asked what they wanted; then reached out of the bed and opened the door, still in bed. This room was occupied by H. J. Hagen. Hagen was in his underclothes. They inspected the room, but found nothing as usual. The towels had not been used. He did not try the door between the two rooms. He inspected room 29, occupied by Jacobson, and found everything as usual; towels had not been used. Jacobson slipped on his trousers when they came in. In room 35 towels had not been used and nothing unusual and nothing out of the ordinary in room 43. A man in that room was not dressed and towels not used. Before the officers inspected it, room 40 had been made up by the maid, but she said she found nothing unusual.

Tells of Exit

Lawrence testified as to the windows in the rear of the building and the doors to room 65 which had not been occupied and that the officers had noticed that the dust on the sills was not disturbed and the screen door was hooked on the inside. All possible exits were examined; all screens were found to be fastened, and no (Continued on Page 1)

BURBANK AND WIFE GIVE WORLD
SEVEN NEW PLANT WONDERS

LUTHER BURBANK AND HIS WIFE, WHO AIDS HIM IN HIS PLANT EXPERIMENTS.

BY GENE COHN.
Santa Rosa, Cal., Jan. 20.—Seven wonders of the plant world are Luther Burbank's 1922 contributions to horticultural science.

Topping the list as an agricultural innovation of inestimable importance is the "Opaline," an oat that bulks out like wheat when threshed and, instead of weighing 45 pounds to the bushel, weighs 60. This result, Burbank explains, has been accomplished through the practical elimination of husk with incidental benefit to the grain itself.

For some seasons he has been working on the "hullless oat" and it is considered one of his great contributions to American farmers.

His six other "wonders" he lists as follows:

Peruvian winter grass, which can withstand frosts and produce an enormous amount of feed during the cold winter months, thus insuring green feed for cattle.

A mammoth flowering artichoke, with flowers as lovely as roses and several times as large.

A "prickly poppy," known as the Mariposa, which grows spines as does a cactus.

A Brazilian tomato-like fruit, with thorny plant, but bearing an orange colored product which has much of the taste of the tomato.

A "super-sweet" corn of 12 rowed variety which Burbank declares to be the sweetest corn ever perfected.

The "orange sunberry," something new and having the flavor of the huckleberry and blueberry.

Three minor creations include a lemon-colored hyacinth, the "molten fire" flower and a new dwarf sunflower.

In all of his recent experiments Burbank has been aided by his young wife, who is as interested in gardening ventures as the wizard himself.

HOOVER WARNS

OF COAL STRIKE

Says Stage Appears Set For It

In March

Washington, Jan. 20.—Warning of an impending general strike in the country's coal industry was given by Secretary Hoover who declared that the public should know what to expect when the national agreement covering the wages and working conditions of miners expires April 1.

"The stage," he said, "appears to be set for a strike in the bituminous coal fields about the last of March."

Mr. Hoover did not indicate what the government's plans for meeting such an emergency were, but said there had been no conferences between representatives of the administration and the miners and operators for about six weeks with no further discussions looking toward adjustment of controversial questions scheduled at this time by the government.

Various Proposals To Go Before

Convention

Shamokin, Pa., Jan. 20.—Delegates to the anthracite wage convention expected to have presented to them today the report of the wage scale committee embodying proposals to be submitted to replace the present agreement which expires March 31. The scale committee received suggestions from many local unions for increase in the demand. Requests for increase in wages from 15 to 40 per cent went before the committee but according to the leaders the demand on the operators will probably not be above 15 to 20 per cent.

FAVORITISM IN
LOANS TO N. P.
ALLEGED SHOWNFarm Loan Department Officials Say N. P.'s Favored in Farm Loans

ANTIS DENIED LOANS

Malle Townsend, land appraiser for the Bank of North Dakota under the Catholic administration of the bank, showed rank favoritism toward Non-partisans in recommending loans, according to Carl R. Kositzky, of the department, based on an investigation of records.

Of five loans in which Townsend referred to the politics of the prospective borrowers three were given to Non-partisans and two were given to anti-leaguers and did not get loans, he says.

"I think he should have this loan. He is a good leaguer and if you birds can't help the men that are feeding you, you are no good."

This was the application of Joseph W. Hopton, of Regan, Burleigh county. Townsend recommended a loan of $2,000. The application number was 1618. The loan number was 444. The loan was appraised April 8, 1920; the loan approved April 15, 1920 and the money paid May 5, 1920.

Other examples given by the department in which it is charged favoritism is apparent, follow.

On the application of John Sandvil, of Driscoll, Burleigh county, Townsend recommended a maximum loan of $4,500 as safe and then added: "Land shark E. C. Ruble owns this land. He lives in Driscoll, is a good I. V. A."

This notation was dated April 1, 1920. The man did not get the loan.

Another case is that of Sigvald Johnson, of near Max, who asked a loan of $2,500. Townsend wrote on the appraisal and application blank: "This land is only three miles from Max and he is the only leaguer in this country, that is, for two or three miles, and he has the land and this is a fair loan, so I would not shave him."

The loan was made.

On the application blank and appraisal of Charles Kuehl, of Regan, Burleigh county, asking a $4,500 loan in 320 acres, Townsend recommended a maximum loan of $4,000, and then added: "Her and her father own this and together. She says that he is going to put this crop in. This is a good one-half. I think he is an I. V. A. is the reason she is asking for the loan. He is single."

The loan was not made.

In another case, that of F. F. Carnell, of Emmett, Townsend said the value was good, praised the industry of Carnell and added "I mean he is a leaguer, too." He got the loan.

Fargo

DR. COULTER PRESIDENT

Succeeds Dr. Worst Who Retires
After Twenty Years of Service

Fargo, Jan. 20.—Resolutions asking Congress to fix the price of wheat at $2.00 a bushel and advocating co-ordination of existing farm movements and co-operation between farmers' organizations were adopted and Dr. John Lee Coulter, head of the North Dakota Agricultural college, was elected president at the closing session of the Tri-State Grain Growers' convention here today.

G. W. Randall, vice president, and W. C. Laimier, secretary, were re-elected.

Dr. Coulter succeeds Dr. John H. Worst, who announced his retirement last night after more than 20 years of service as president of the organization. Resolutions of appreciation were adopted and he was given a rising vote of thanks.

Other resolutions adopted urged the farmers to obtain a fair price for their products through organization for orderly marketing by co-operative enterprises; urged economy in taxation and government administration; asked for continuance of the War Finance Corporation; recommended placing a duty on grain and on foreign importations of clover and alfalfa seed; favored legislation to establish the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterways project and asked that the principles of the War Finance Corporation be made permanent.

GRAIN GROWERS AND EQUITY TO BURY HATCHET?

Reported That Contract Between Them Will Be Signed
Yet Today

EQUITY SELLING AGENT

Fargo, Jan. 20.—Developments at a joint meeting of the committees representing the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., and the Equity Co-operative Exchange indicate that by tonight the two organizations will be in full accord, and will have signed a contract making the Equity the exclusive sales agency for the U. S. Grain Growers in the territory tributary to the Twin Cities and Duluth, according to Benjamin Drake, attorney for the Equity Exchange, and a member of the committee. This territory is designated by the Grain Growers as Zone 2 and includes all of Minnesota and North Dakota and part of Montana and South Dakota. The members of the two committees signed resolutions at noon today stating "that we ask and insist of the officers of the Equity Co-operative Exchange and the U. S. Grain Growers Inc. that they use all means possible to bring these two great organizations together at the earliest possible moment."

"It is the unanimous decision of this joint committee," the resolution says, "that marketing machinery and organization built up by the Equity Co-operative Exchange should be utilized by the U. S. Grain Growers Inc. as their exclusive sales agency for zone 2 until such time as arrangements can be made for the U. S. Grain Growers to take over the facilities and functions of the Equity Exchange as an integral part of its own organization."

Mr. Drake stated that the Equity committee, he believed was empowered to sign a contract binding that organization and that Usher L. Burdick state director of the Grain Growers was empowered to do the same for his organization. He said the contract probably would be signed sometime today.

FOREIGNERS 60 YEARS OF AGE
LEARN ENGLISH AT DICKINSON

Foreigners 60 years of age are learning to read and write English in Dickinson.

Miss Bertha Palmer, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, returned from a visit to the newly established Dickinson night school enthusiastic over the opening of the school. There are in the night school 98 persons—Russians, Germans, Russians, etc.—of the ages from 18 to 60. Of this number only one was absolutely illiterate; others had some little schooling in their native language.

They want to learn English. They are Americans.

Miss Palmer gave a "flag drill." What flag is this? she asked, holding up the American flag.

WALLACE RAPS
TOO HIGH PRICE
ON FARM LOANS

Says That Matter Will Be Laid
Before Agricultural Conference

WANTS A GUARANTEE

Washington, Jan. 20.—Determination to lay before the national agricultural conference next week the "thoroughly selfish and grasping attitude" of many companies of different sorts which loan money on farm mortgages was announced today by Secretary Wallace.

Declaring that many farmers who have never done so before are having to mortgage their lands in order to get necessary money Secretary Wallace said, "It is discouraging to note that many companies and individuals who are in the business of loaning money on farm mortgages are taking advantage of the farmers' distress to heartlessly extort a rate of interest and terms of loans which cannot be justified."

Farmers, he said, were being compelled to pay 6-12 and 7 per cent on 5 and 10-year loans without option of early payment and also a commission of 5 or 6 per cent while in some cases as high as 10 per cent was being added.

GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE ASKED

Minneapolis, Jan. 20.—That he will recommend a government guarantee for a "reasonable price on wheat as a means of restoring agricultural prosperity in North Dakota was the declaration of E. B. Page, farmer, at Leeds, in Minneapolis today, on his way to a national conference in Washington, called by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to consider agricultural problems.

"A price should be guaranteed by the government for the next two years when Europe will be able to pay for the wheat she is demanding from us now to keep from starving," Mr. Page said. "North Dakota farmers are hopelessly in debt and cannot obtain credit to go. They operated at a loss in 1921. Prices of farm implements are just beginning to come down."

Unless a price is guaranteed for the next crop, production will fall off to such an extent that the price in 1923 will be outrageously high, Mr. Page said.

Rome, Jan. 20.—The physicians gave their patient another examination shortly after noon, after which Dr. Marchiafava said the Pope's condition was very grave but not desperate. He thought the turning point would occur tonight.

Rome, Jan. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Pope Benedict's life hangs in the balance today and fears were expressed at the Vatican at noon that his Holiness was in a dying condition.

During the early hours of this morning, towards 4 a. m. there was a sudden change for the worse and the bronchial obstruction from which his Holiness had been suffering for several days spread to his lungs.

The Pontiff asked for and received the last sacrament.

The Pope's physicians were in consultation at the Vatican at an early hour and the morning bulletin issued afterward indicated an extremely serious condition but not hopeless.

About 11 o'clock in the forenoon, however, the Pope's condition became aggravated and the administration of oxygen was begun.

At 11:30 o'clock the Eucharist was solemnly carried to him. Meanwhile prayers were being said in all the churches and Catholic institutions of Rome on behalf of His Holiness and great crowds began to assemble in St. Peter's.

Upon leaving the papal apartments the Cardinals who administered Extreme Unction said the Pope's mind was perfectly clear but that his condition was so grave that only a miracle could save him.

HAS PNEUMONIA.

London, Jan. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is now definitely stated that Pope Benedict has pneumonia, according to a Central News dispatch from Rome. His condition is causing considerable alarm.

FARMER - CONTROLLED MARKETING FIRMS TO TAKE PLACE UPON BIG MARTS, SAYS CRANDALL

Predicts That Future Will See Great Growth in Cooperative Marketing

CITES SOUTH ST. PAUL

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 19.—Farmer managed and controlled marketing firms will be placed on the leading livestock markets of the United States shortly with their success assured, C. B. Crandall of Minneapolis, Minn., who is connected with the Central Cooperative Commission Association at South St. Paul, predicted before the Tri-State Grain Growers in convention here today.

A comprehensive study of livestock conditions has been made by a committee appointed by the American Farm Bureau Federation, Mr. Crandall said, and in its work has included a plan of cooperative marketing as one of its main features. Interwoven with this plan are the orderly marketing scheme, the development of cooperative shipping associations, improvement of railroad transportation, and other allied interests of the livestock producer. The development of the national marketing agency lies in the foundation of better livestock marketing. Within a short time farmers own managed and controlled firms will be placed on the leading markets of the United States. Their success is assured.

Mr. Crandall took the place of W. A. McKerrrow, secretary-manager of the Central Cooperative Commission Association, who died in St. Paul ten days ago.

Handle $4,000,000
Four million dollars worth of livestock has been handled by the association at South St. Paul since its establishment August 8, 1921. Mr. Crandall told the convention, and its commission charges of 25 per cent less than the regular commission houses had resulted in the saving of more than $4,000,000 above expenses. The association, which represents about 390 local shipping associations with a total membership of nearly 60,000 farmers, he said, handled 442 cars the first three weeks; 701 cars in September and 1,293 cars in November. About 227,000 head of livestock were handled he said. The organization is now handling livestock for about $8 a car, he claimed.

Citing the large volume of business in the hog market as one of the most important features of the business, Mr. Crandall declared that the association has handled as many as 7,000 hogs, aggregating 33 to 35 per cent of the market, in a single day, and claimed that the rapid growth of its business is setting a standard for future organizations.

"The national board of directors, which is composed of representative livestock men from various sections of the country, will soon lay plans for the organization of other associations at the large markets," he said. "St. Louis will be ready to start January 1. No doubt five or six others will start within a few months." "The co-related work of these terminal agencies, through the national board, will enable the producers to develop the best machinery for orderly marketing that has been possible in the country. Lack of interest on the part of the producers has been one of the retarding features of the success of most marketing agencies. In the case of cooperative marketing, the producers should investigate any complaints which they may find through hearsay, as we realize the opposition is trying to fortify themselves through managers who do not have the interest of the farmer at heart."

Spirit Determines
"When the cooperative spirit and determination which exist in some communities develop in all sections," Mr. Crandall concluded, "livestock marketing will succeed to the fullest extent but without this success cannot be assured and the parasites who live on the industry will continue in their present unsatisfied condition."

Mr. Crandall also touched briefly on the farm problem, declaring that the agriculturalists of the country are now carrying the heaviest burden of any class of people in the United States.

He declared that the farm population has gradually been driven from the country to the city until 34 per cent are now producing food for the other 66 per cent. Such a condition, he said, has made necessary the organization of agricultural associations to protect the farmers' interests so that the industry may not be destroyed.

"The national and state farm bureau federation and other agricultural associations are now making rapid strides," he said. "Livestock marketing is one of the major projects which has been receiving their special attention."

TODAY'S PUPILS AND THOSE OF THE LONG AGO

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 19.—Much uncalled for sympathy has been spent on the boys and girls of today by the boys and girls of a previous generation who, remembering the days when they studied history, have breathed a sigh of relief that they did not have to memorize the dates, important battles and commanding generals of the World War, according to Fred L. Shaw, state superintendent of public instruction.

History as it was taught when "father went to school" and as it is taught now is a greatly changed subject, Mr. Shaw says. Fifteen or twenty years ago it was all important that the pupil be able to rattle off the date war was declared, the principal battles, the number killed and wounded, the victor of each encounter and the commanding generals on both sides.

But the modern school authorities do not lay so much stress upon details. They emphasize cause and effect and do not cram the heads of their charges with a mechanical list of dates and army movements.

So it is with the history supplements now used in the state schools. The supplements deal with the great war but they deal with the things leading up to it, the general military strategy employed and the results of that conflict.

Geography likewise, according to Mr. Shaw, has gone through a period of transition. A personality has been injected into the subject which makes it more interesting and better applicable for use in after life. Under methods now employed, it is a study of topography rather than of strict topography.

"GOLDEN TOOTH" CHARGED WITH ASSASSINATION

Pointing To Him Widow Exclaims "There Stands My Husband's Assassin"

Lisbon, Jan. 19.—A sailor commonly known as "Golden Tooth," is the principal member among the ten persons who have been charged with participating in the assassination of Premier Granjo and several other Portuguese statesmen in the revolution which took place on the 19th of October.

The sailor admits that he accompanied the other soldiers and sailors in the raid upon the homes of the statesmen but contends that he did so to save the lives of those who had been chosen as victims of the revolutionaries.

"Golden Tooth" has figured in two dramatic incidents in the course of the investigation still progressing. Confronted by the son and brother of Admiral Machado Santo, founder of the Portuguese Republic and one of the assassinated men, he was accused by both of them as one of the most cruel and insolent of the savage group of men who broke into the Santos house and dragged him to his death.

A similar scene occurred when Bertha da Maia, widow of Commander Carlos da Maia, another of the victims, was brought face-to-face with this sailor in court. Pointing at him, she burst into sobs and cried: "There stands my husband's assassin. When the others hesitated, when on my knee before them, holding my baby in my arms, I implored them to spare my husband's life, that wild beast there, seeing they were inclined to mercy shouted at them and pushed my husband into their midst, asking them if they were going to let live the man who had sent them to Africa four years before. And they took him away and murdered him."

Among those accused of participation in the outrages are Benjamin Pereira, a middleman; Sergeant Helitor and Corporal Abel Olympio. Olympio is accused of being the first to shoot at Admiral Santos and Commander Maia.

There are various symptoms of kidney trouble—rheumatic pains, backache, sore muscles, stiff joints and "always tired" feeling. Mrs. Geo. Morgan, E. Fairfield, W. They heal and strengthen weak, disordered kidneys and bladder and help them in their work of filtering the blood and casting out of the system the impurities that cause pain and disease. # The Chinese Puzzle of 400,000,000 Mortals

"Whoever understands China socially, politically, economically, and religiously, holds the key to the world's politics for the next five centuries."—Former Secretary of State, JOHN HAY.

WITH SEVENTY THOUSAND Chinese studying and working among us; with "the Open Door" in China standing as the great, dominant American policy in the Far East; with the traditional friendship between China and the United States constantly finding new expression, it still remains true to-day that to practically all Americans China, with her four hundred millions of human beings, is a vast unknown, a mystery unfathomable. Never has so good an opportunity come to Americans to know and understand China as now, when Japan and China have been brought together at a conference table of the world's great powers in the Capital of the American Republic. Therefore THE LITERARY DIGEST has prepared a complete presentation of China, the Country, the People, their Industries, their Ideals, and their Relations with the Rest of the World.

Americans Now May Know the Whole Story of China

A HOARY HISTORY

Countless ages back, lost in the mists of antiquity, thousands of years before the Christian Era, the Chinese people began,—no one knows how. Did they spring from the soil, or migrate from ancient Turkey, or Syria, or did they actually descend from Noah, after the Flood? Their many centuries of known history is full of wonderful happenings. An outline of it is given in this special number of THE DIGEST.

THE WHITE RAIDS ON CHINA

"The story of China for the past hundred years has been largely the story of her spoliation by the white races." To all who are accustomed to think of Japan's "extension of influence" as the chiefest of China's troubles, the article describing "Europe's Encroachments on China's Sovereignty" will bring an astounding revelation.

AMERICA: FRIEND and PROTECTOR

During all the troublesome years of European and Japanese encroachments and demands on China, only one great power in the world has stood by her as her protector, and is her protector to-day, and that power is America. A splendid article tells what America has done and is doing to maintain "the Open Door" and to protect China from voracious raids of foreign powers.

SHANTUNG

The cradle of Chinese Civilization; the Holy Land of the Chinese People; the birthplace of the silk industry, an Eden of agriculture; an Aladdin's Cave of precious metals and stones; the heart that controls the internal commerce, and communications of the entire Chinese Empire; one of the richest and most densely populated provinces of the earth; self-governed for five thousand years—There are many reasons "Why They Struggle for Shantung," and the article under that title is full of surprising information, illustrated with a specially-drawn map.

JAPAN'S 21 DEMANDS

Probably not five persons in every ten thousand Americans could name even three of the famous "twenty-one demands" imposed upon China by Japan. Yet these demands have the most vital relationship to any settlement of the great "Problem of the Far East." They have been variously interpreted by the powers concerned. One of the most important articles in this week's DIGEST reveals "The Secret of the Twenty-One Demands."

CHINA'S RELIGIONS, CUSTOMS, ART

To know China it is necessary to know her religions. A clear explanation of the part which Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, Ancestor Worship, and Christianity play in Chinese life is contained in a special article on the subject. "Men and Manners in China" is another colorful article, full of interesting incidents. The "Peculiar Qualities of Chinese Art" are instructively described.

UNBINDING THE WOMEN

Along with the crippling of Chinese women's feet and the custom of killing or selling girl-babies, has gone a general subordination of the whole sex. But women in China are being unbound, physically, mentally, morally, and socially. A most instructive article tells how the transformation is being wrought.

SCIENCE IN CHINA

While the people in Europe were going about dressed in the skins of wild animals and using pieces of stone tied to sticks for tools and weapons, the Chinese were a highly developed and skillful nation. They were the inventors of gunpowder, the mariner's compass, the art of printing, the making of porcelain, and the manufacture of silk. Read about their casting of metals, their electrical industries, their medicine, their curious treatment of fractures, and many other marvels and oddities.

A LANGUAGE OF PICTURES

Chinese written characters are full of expressive symbolism and piquant commentaries on social and industrial life. There is a picture character for "man" and another for "field." Both put together mean "farmer." Combine the character which means "word" with "man" and we have a man and his word, or "honesty." The symbols for "woman" and "son" together mean "good." Two of the symbols for "woman" together mean "quarrel." Three of them together stand for "gossip." An interesting article reproduces and explains many of these story characters of the Chinese language.

An Exclusive Map, in Colors, of the Divided Republic

No such map has been published in this country before. It shows at a glance the provinces under the Peking Government, those under the Canton Government, and those which are independent or neutral. The leading article tells the whole story of the Divided Republic. Another valuable map shows the Province of Shantung, with its railways, roads, cable lines, and grand canal, as well as the location of its iron and coal fields and other mines. Still another map shows just where the zones of commercial influence of the various European Powers in China are located. These maps are of infinite value in making plain the real situation in China. The flag of the Chinese Republic is reproduced in correct colors on the cover.

GRANGAARD EXPLAINS HOW WAR FINANCE CORPORATION CAN HELP THE N. D. FARMER

It Brings Relief and Benefit To Each Borrower Of a Bank

1921 A MEMORABLE YEAR

It Put Marrow Into Our Bones and Gave Us Courage To Fight Hard Battle

Phage, N. D., Jan. 20.—In a detailed explanation of how the War Finance Corporation can help the farmers, Mr. O. Grangaard, secretary of the agricultural loan agency of the corporation at Minneapolis, delivered into the basic modern banking systems, and related to the Tri-State Grain Growers' convention here today, the method by which the farmer obtains relief through the finance corporation. After pointing out that funds loaned by the corporation go to banks direct, and then from the financial institutions to the farmer, Mr. Grangaard declared that "it must be clear to us all that the War Finance Corporation, through the assistance which is rendered, brings relief and benefit to each borrower of a bank, and brings this relief whether such borrower is or is not enabled to obtain a further extension of credit."

Mr. Grangaard went on to show that a bank, under the laws of the state, may loan up to 85 per cent of its deposits, the remaining 15 per cent to remain as a reserve fund. When depositors who by force of circumstances must make withdrawals, he said, which in any way would endanger the surplus, the bank must collect on its loans to pay the withdrawal. In such cases, the bank is confronted with the problem of having to pay back a collector's deposit, either by collection of outstanding notes, or in some other way, he said.

"With this dilemma confronting both the bank and the maker of the note, the War Finance Corporation appears on the scene, the loan agency's secretary stated.

Illustrates His Point.
Using for example the name of Smith as depositor and Jones as borrower, with the problem of paying Smith who has had an unprofitable year, Mr. Grangaard showed that under normal procedure, the bank must collect from Jones, even though the latter would suffer hardship from such action, possibly through the sale of immature cattle or the like.

"The War Finance Corporation," Mr. Grangaard continued, "says in substance to the bank 'We realize that when Mr. Smith demands a part of his deposit in cash that you must give it to him. We realize further that Mr. Jones has borrowed this money, and that you are unable to pay Mr. Smith until such time as you can collect from Mr. Jones. We do not desire at this time that you press Mr. Jones for the payment of his obligation in order to pay Smith, but we will assist you by loaning funds to you so that you will be enabled to pay Mr. Smith's deposit without requiring that Mr. Jones take up his obligation. With the funds loaned you by the War Finance Corporation, you can carry Jones' note until such time as his cattle are fit for the market and he can market them to the best possible advantage.'"

"This can be done because of the fact that the funds that Jones now has borrowed are the funds of the War Finance Corporation and not those of Smith, the depositor. Under this arrangement the bank is enabled to carry its borrowers and still pay off its depositor and is not obliged to ask its borrower to pay, as it would have to do were it not for this assistance of the War Finance Corporation."

"Under this arrangement, can Jones the borrower, state truthfully that he has received no benefits from the War Finance Corporation?" Can he truthfully state that the War Finance Corporation has been of no assistance to him, even though throughout the whole transaction he has borrowed no new money and has not been able to obtain the loan of a single dollar? The transaction has enabled him to be carried by the local bank until such time as he could profitably market his cattle, which would have been an impossibility had it not been for the assistance of the War Finance Corporation."

Criticism of Banks Unjust
The speaker said much of the criticism directed at banks for an apathetic attitude on their part in the matter of financial relief through assistance from the corporation is due to a lack of understanding on the part of those who criticize.

"It must be borne in mind," he said, "that the funds of the War Finance Corporation are not loaned to the individual, but are loaned to banks. In order that you might obtain a loan of $1,000 from the War Finance Corporation, it is first necessary that the bank borrow such funds from the War Finance Corporation on its own obligation, and when such funds are available, then re-loan them to you. It is evident and clear to all thinking men that a bank cannot continue to borrow for the purpose of re-lending, because of the fact that a continuation of such a purpose would render it so overextended that its safety would be jeopardized and its ability to function would be materially decreased."

Mr. Grangaard explained that although he does not condemn, nor even criticize a bank that finds itself unable to further extend itself by borrowing from the finance corporation and re-lending to borrowers, he certainly deprecates the attitude of banks which, rather than avail itself of the opportunity afforded by the War Finance Corporation, goes to its borrowing customers and insisted on undue liquidation, to the sacrifice of the borrower.

Explains Work of Congress.
The northwest agency's secretary told of the amending of the War Finance Corporation bill by congress on August 24, 1921, by which his previous functions to finance the war, was turned to help agriculture. Besides the headquarters at Washington, 16 agencies were established throughout the country. The Minneapolis Agency, he said, in its short time of existence, has supplied 2,000 banks with blank and all necessary information incident to proper filing of applications, and has actually approved more than 1,000 applications for loans aggregating more than $30,000,000, of which North Dakota received about $12,000,000, South Dakota approximately $11,000,000 and Minnesota $7,000,000.

"The year 1921," Mr. Grangaard added, "which we were happy to close, will prove to us a memorable one, and it will not be a wasted one. The lessons learned in adversity and trial and trouble are oftentimes the most valuable lessons that one can learn, and the lessons which you and I have learned during the year 1921 will remain with us forever. We will look back upon the year 1921 as one which put marrow into our bones and one in which we found ourselves to be either men who could face the trying problems of life with determination and come through victor, or we shall find ourselves cowardly who shrink from responsibility when it appears to be heavy."

RELIGIOUS WAVE SWEEPS SCOTTISH FISHING VILLAGES
Glasgow, Jan. 19.—A religious wave is now sweeping over the fishing villages on the east coast of Scotland. Believing that the failure of the herring fishing season is a visitation for unrighteous living, the fishermen are parading the highways singing hymns and testifying in other ways to their religious fervor. There is scarcely a fishing village which is not affected.

ous that President Harding in his recent message to congress last December suggested the advisability of a constitutional amendment to devise means for reserving definite sources of revenue for the federal, state, county and municipal units," declared Professor Blakey.

"The Minnesota Tax Conference," he said, "therefore, meets at an opportune time. The problems of readjustment are foremost. Its deliberations will be watched with interest by other tax organizations and government officials throughout the country, not only because of the need for readjustments in sources of revenue but also because of the multitude of problems involved in an increase in the average city tax of 87 per cent during the last ten years."

Of prime importance at the conference will be the subject of bank taxation, in view of a recent decision of the United States supreme court affecting the state tax on national banks—a decision which may take from the state a revenue of approximately $1,300,000.

McFadden Bill Explained
Samuel Lord, president of the National Tax association and a member of the Minnesota tax commission, explained the McFadden bill, which he was instrumental in drafting recently in Washington, which, if passed, will remove the doubt as to the right of the state to tax the real property of any national bank in the same manner and at the same rate as other real property. It also provides for the taxation of the shares of national banks.

The recent supreme court decision held that bank shares must be assessed at the same rate as notes and money or credits in the hands of individuals. Inasmuch as the three mill tax on money or credits applies in this state, the decision places the limitation of three mills likewise upon the tax on national banking associations, officials pointed out. As a result the state may be deprived of an income of approximately $1,200,000, with a loss to the city of Minneapolis of $400,000, alone.

Under terms of the McFadden bill, the federal statute is amended and further provides that any tax upon shares on national banks paid within provisions of the act are legalized and confirmed as of the date when paid.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"
Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, poison, sour bile and waste from the tender little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babes in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them they can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. Miss Jones Leads Musical Club Program

The Thursday Musical club met at the home of Mrs. John L. Hughes, yesterday afternoon, nineteen members responding to roll call. The program was different than those usually given. Miss Elizabeth Jones, leader, read "Hiawatha's Wooing" and "The Pamine," with piano accompaniment taken from S. Coleridge Taylor's cantata, "Hiawatha," played by Mrs. Rose.

During the reading of "The Pamine," a pantomime was enacted in a stage setting of a wigwam among pine trees. Those taking part were: Mrs. Targart as Hiawatha; Miss Hoffman, as Minnehaha; Mrs. McGray, as Nokomis; Mrs. Hughes, as the Ghost of Pamine; and Mrs. Arnot, as the Ghost of Pever.

Miss Jones gave the reading with splendid expression and the pantomime minutely planned by her and successfully carried out made the story more realistic.

At the close of the pleasant afternoon dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

THE WOMAN OF POISE

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in this midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, some depend mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women?—Adv.

THE YANKEE GIANT
Famous in song and story are the old-time whalers and the crews of schooners that built up the fishing industry along our New England coast. They were virile pioneers, builders of great modern America. In their day, their fishing accomplishments were the talk of the country and the envy of the world. Yet how those ancient "salts" must murmur in bewilderment as they contemplate the enormous size of the fishing industry they founded. For instance, Henry F. Fortmann retires as president of the Alaska Packers' Association of Seattle. Since 1893, this organization has packed 29,000,000 cases of salmon. It has 97 steamers and sailing vessels. Its sailing fleet is the finest under the American flag. One million cases of salmon a year! It takes a figure like that to make you realize the enormous scale on which we do things in this country.

In three recent months the railroads, despite business depression, hauled 425,000,000 tons of freight. The figure is so big that it cannot be fully conceived by any human mind. America is the country that introduced "millions" and "billions" into the production of goods. "Millions" and "billions" cannot be imagined or pictured by the human brain. That is why none of us realizes the tremendous productive power of the Yankee Giant, our country. Glibly we comment that the United States in a normal year produces 560,000,000 tons of soft coal, 920,000,000 bushels of wheat, 12,000,000 bales of cotton, 37,000,000 tons of pig iron and 18,600,000,000 gallons of crude oil. Try to visualize any one of those figures. They are almost terrifying in their size and indication of power. Henry Ford wasn't pipe-dreaming when he said that, if Germany hadn't thrown the sponge, American mechanics would have covered her with boiler-plate. Forty per cent of the world's manufactured goods are produced in the United States. A country with this enormous productive power cannot languish much longer in recuperative depression. Human needs and American productive power are so big that before long "things will begin to run automatically." It's a good thing, occasionally, to ponder figures like these. They make a thrill run up the spine, and from the heart wells up the glad song, "I'm an American!"

START LIFE OVER AGAIN
The oldest married couple in the United States—James Bell and wife—have their home and all their saving destroyed by fire, at Abrams, Wisconsin. He is 104 years old, she 102. Discouraged? No. "We'll start life all over again!" says Bell. Mrs. Bell nods eagerly and adds, "I'll help." That's inspiring to any one who is down in the mouth. It doesn't matter what happens to people, as long as they keep their grit. It's discouragement, not trouble, that brings ruin.

MONEY
Interest on long-time loans in New York City drops to 4 1/2 per cent. That's the lowest rate since August, 1917. This is important to borrowers. It is more important to the average citizen, not in the market for loans. Cheap money—low interest—always is a forerunner of good times. Money begins doing things when its ball and chain are made lighter.

DIET
Children of rich parents are starving, because the food they get at home does not contain proper health-building materials. This is discovered by the school board at Bridgeport, Conn. It will take the undernourished, "poor little rich children" in hand and feed them milk and other foods to build up their bodies. It's the kind of food we eat, not the amount, that makes us starve or grow healthy. A glutton, eating seven meals a day, is apt to die of starvation. Too much coal in a furnace smothers the fire. Good health depends, first of all, on properly-balanced diet. Mothers should study what combinations of meats, grains, fruits and vegetables to serve. Most of us eat too much.

WHO GOT THE MONEY
Many false notions about wages and profits during the war boom are exploded by the preliminary analysis of the 1920 census of manufacturing in United States. The average wage-earner received $582 for his work during the year 1914. In 1919 he got $1159, or a trifle less than $100 a month. The gain was about 100 per cent—almost exactly. In rough figures, it matched increase in cost of living. The "white collar jobs" did not fare as well. The pay of the average salaried employe in manufacturing establishments was $1835 in 1914. It rose to $1999 in 1919, a gain of a trifle less than 50 per cent.

What was labor's share of the total? The census answers, as accurately as ever will be possible. In 1919, there were 290,111 manufacturing establishments. On their payrolls they had: 9,098,119 wage-earners. 1,447,761 salaried employes. 270,003 proprietors and firm members. The total value or selling price of all manufactured products was $62,427,825,000. From this, subtract $37,380,124,000, the value of materials used in manufacturing. The balance was spent like this:

Wages	$10,545,905,000
Salaries	$2,893,046,000

This leaves after paying for materials, wages and salaries $11,608,750,000. Out of this came overhead expenses, including taxes, rent, depreciation funds and interest on loans. What was left went as profits on investment of $44,776,006,000, which enormous figure was the combined capitalization of all manufacturing establishments in 1919.

Bringing 1919 manufacturing down to small figures, out of every $624 received in sale of products, $374 went for raw and other materials, $105 for wages, $29 for salaries, leaving $116 for taxes, depreciation, rent and all other overhead, also profits. It is obvious that, in manufacturing, neither wages nor profits were, on the average and excluding exceptions, as great as has been generally believed. It looks big on paper, but the figures were in terms of inflated dollars—dollars of decreased buying power. Between 1914 and 1919, manufacturing increased its number of wage-earners 29 per cent and the number of salaried employes 50 per cent. In the trip back to normal production, this explains much of the unemployment since the smash came in May, 1920.

WEEVIL
The boll weevil, destroyer of growing cotton, could be starved and wiped out if the south didn't grow any cotton for a year or two. So claim some authorities. If the weevil gets alarmingly beyond control, this may be the court of last resort. The trouble with the scheme is that the weevil, deprived of cotton, probably would adapt itself to eating something else. The south's salvation is crop rotation, coupled with an intensive scientific campaign against the weevil. Science can conquer any insect, though it takes time.

FENIAN
The Grim Reaper visits Boston and claims another picturesque old character—Colonel Roger F. Scannell. Grandpa will say, "I seem to recall the name." Scannell appeared regularly in newspaper headlines a half century ago. He was a leader of the Fenians, workers for Irish independence. They indirectly attacked Britain by making spectacular raids on Canada in 1866 and 1871. Scannell lived to see the Irish Free State being born, and died knowing that a good cause never dies, always triumphs in the long run.

REBUILT
Rebuilding of France goes ahead steadily and at a fast clip. Nearly half of the destroyed dwellings have been rebuilt. Seven-eighths of the ravaged fighting-zone has been cleared of shells, trenches and wire. Three-fourths of France's battlefields are growing crops again. Of 3000 mile of destroyed railroads, 2235 miles have been permanently rebuilt. Europe, reborn, is rising from her ruins. Children are replacing lost manpower. But war debt will remain forever as a monument to the folly of war.

GOLD
Only $49,106,000 worth of gold mined in America last year. Multiply that by 1000 and you have the total amount income of all the people for the year—value of their crops, manufacturers and labor. Henry Ford wants to base money on the products of human energy, instead of gold. A bank note would be a mortgage on so many hours of work instead of a handful of gold. America each year produces, by human labor, a total value five times as big as all the gold in the world. Which would be the better security?

WAR VET SINGS IN THREE VOICES AT ONCE

By NEA Service
Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 20.—The sound of three voices singing "Silver Threads Among the Gold" resounded through the corridors of the Swedish Hospital here. The "trio" is Joseph Kaufman, 26-year-old veteran of the World War now recovering here from injuries sustained in a fall a month ago. Kaufman sings high soprano, tenor and alto all at the same time. Specialists say the phenomenon is one that has occurred only once before in all history to their knowledge. Kaufman, a former newsboy, used to draw crowds to his corner by singing in a beautiful falsetto voice. Then his voice changed. He could not sing a note. War came and he joined the colors. In the camps he found his voice coming back—a baritone voice. Humming one day in the trenches he found himself singing in three voices. "It was almost ghastly," he says. "I hummed louder. Still the three voices continued." I sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning" at the top of my voice. The trio effect continued. Back in Minneapolis Kaufman demonstrated the phenomenon to Harry Phillips, instructor at the McPhail School of Music. "The boy has the world in his mouth," says Phillips. Physicians have discovered that Kaufman has two distinct openings in his vocal chords and it is this fact that gives him his remarkable power. His voice is bound to earn him a fortune.

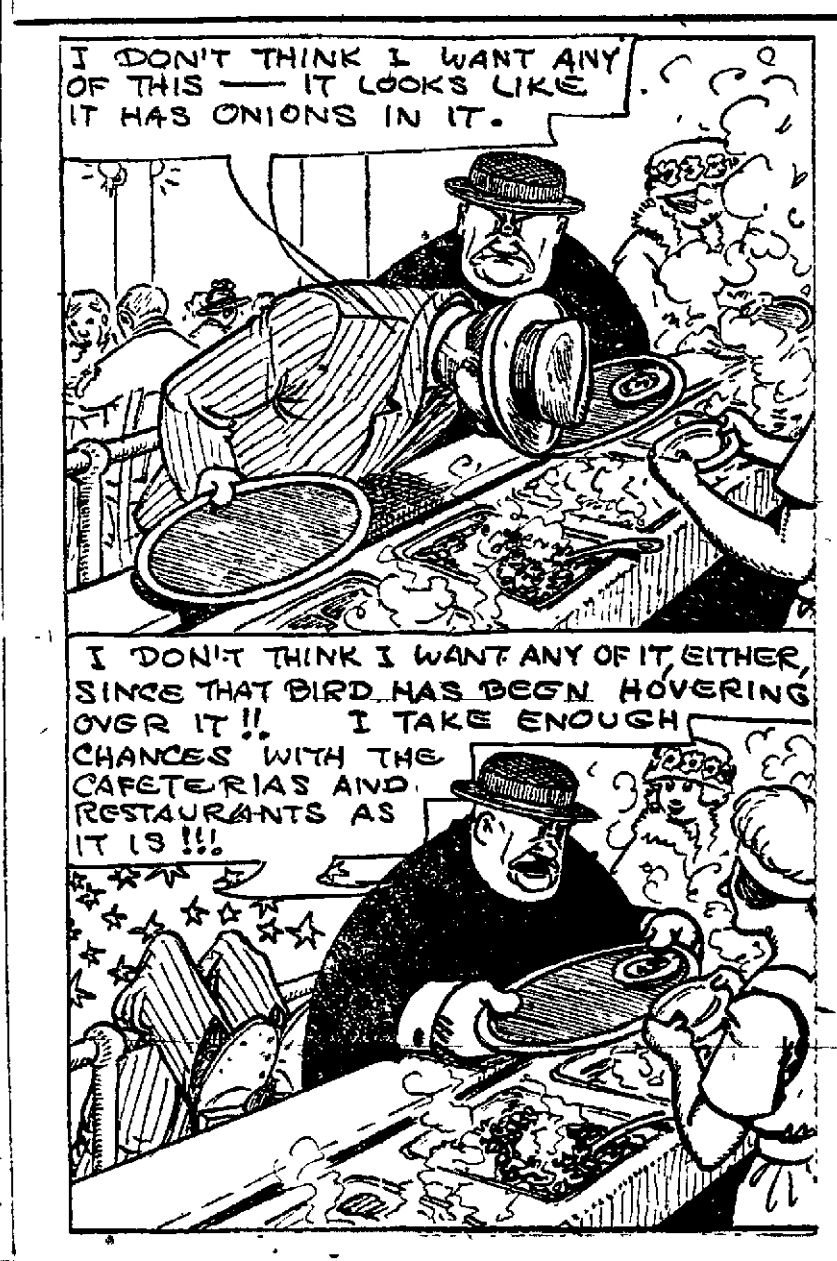

JOSEPH KAUFMAN

"BEHOLD THE MAN" GREAT DRAMA, TO BE SEEN HERE

"Behold the Man" which will be presented at the city auditorium on January 23 and 24 is a remarkable contribution to the silent art by the Pathe Co. and has been attracting an enlightening large audiences in New York. The narration of the life of Christ has shown remarkable appeal to all organizations, societies and churches regardless of denominations and sect. They have expressed the deepest appreciation for this pictorial version of the greatest drama of all times the drama which has had all to do with our social and judicial structure. The thing upon which civilization is founded, and at this particular time it is apropos, for it depicts the suffering of our Saviour, the same as all Europe has had to suffer in the last five or six years. It further depicts the happiness of the people who could understand his teachings. It will further be interesting to know that this production was developed by the Pathe Co. by animating the great paintings that have immortalized their masters on this subject and shown as they are in exquisite natural colors, and readily visualizes the bringing to life of the bible characters as drawn by these masters. OPINIONS OF FOREMOST CRITICS FROM COAST TO COAST ON "WAT DOWN EAST." Feature to show at Capitol Theater next week commencing Monday. "It is enough to raise the hair on a man's head and raise the man out of his seat" (New York Herald). "It is the most amazing spectacle ever seen on sea or land or on any moving picture screen" (Allison Smith in the New York Globe). "It is not often that an audience stands to cheer a motion picture, but it happened at the Forty-fourth Street Theater last night" (New York Journal of Commerce). "There is no rival to Griffith. There is never a dull second. If you turn your head or close your eyes you miss something vital" (Fred Isaacson in the Boston American). "Nothing so dramatic has torn the COMPOSURE of a San Francisco audience and stirred it to madness in recent years" (San Francisco Chronicle). "A thrill like of which has not been felt since the Clansmen rode over the hills in 'The Birth of a Nation' (New York Evening Mail). "The outburst was thunderous, a new way from as far as Philadelphia and Boston" (New York World). THE ELTINGE. "The Man From Lost River," a Goldwyn picture is the feature attraction at the Eltinge tonight and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. The story tells of the triumph of a strong foreman in a lumber camp over a weak but charming character who settles in the camp. The heroine is at first dazzled by the glitzy of the new arrival. And until a time of crisis, she is unaware of the sterling qualities that exist beneath the stern exterior and the tongue-lolling manner of the man who can control men but is helpless in the presence of women. House Peters as the foreman, powerful in physique and firm of character, plays the leading role. The girl in the story is beautifully impersonated by Fritz Brunette, while the third angle of the triangle is upheld by Allan Forrest. Most of the scenes in the picture were taken on a government forest reservation at Lake Huntington, in the Sierras, and one of the most powerful incidents shows a gigantic tree being felled by the lumberjacks. The government gave the Goldwyn company permission to fell three trees and lent several of its foresters to assist the actor-woodmen in filming this part of the picture. The story is not only one of action, but involves a keen play of character upon character. It is a picture that should not be missed. "The Fox and the Goat," an Aesop fable and the news pictures, Kinograms are part of the same program at the Eltinge. ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts
The Twins helped Buskins to do all sorts of things up in the queer place in the sky, which we shall now have to call the "Land of Everything." They found all of the stove's lids, scattered far and wide by Whizzy Tornado, and put them on; they found the wheel for the wheelbarrow, but got it on backward and the poor thing always had to go backward after that; they milked the cow and gave the milk to a dry churn that said it was going to hop; they tied on the pump handle, pinned the washing on the line, emptied the dust out of the farmer's boots, stacked up straw, lay cord-wood in neat piles, mended bits of broken fence, and pretty soon the Land of Everything looked as orderly as a Sunday School. "Well, that's done!" said Buskins, taking out his book. "Now the next thing is to return all these things to their owners. We have to keep this place pretty well cleared out to make room for the next lot. Whizzy Tornado usually makes several trips a year, and if he doesn't come himself, Howly Hurricane or Curlicue Cyclone are sure to be along and they do just as much damage as he does." "All right," said Nick. "Let's begin." And so they did. With the magical apple-tree elevator and their wonderful Green Shoes, it was amazing how quickly the tornado things were returned to earth. Buskins said that he didn't know how he had ever gotten along without the children's help. One thing sure, he said, he never could again. "Are we going on more adventures?" asked Nancy. "Goodness, yes, child," answered Buskins. "The Land-of-Up-in-the-Air is a big place. We haven't begun yet. Did you ever hear of the Runaway Feather?" (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service)

$500 A MILE OVERHEAD ON STATE ROADS

This is Cost of Administration,
According to Engineer's Figures

CITES STATE SYSTEM
Says $14,000,000. Has Been Wasted in State in Faulty Construction

Jamestown, N. D., Jan. 20.—Both criticism and defense of the North Dakota Highway commission was contained in the paper of J. E. Kaulfuss, assistant State Engineer of Bismarck, in his address before the meeting of the County Commissioners here. In the course of his address, he went into the work of the Highway Department since its organization and also discussed the present state road conditions.

In explaining some of the troubles of the department, Mr. Kaulfuss stated that the North Dakota Highway Department and the World War started almost at the same time, the department being organized in March, 1917, while the call to arms came early in April. The changing personnel of the department during the draft period and the low scale of salaries ordered by the North Dakota act in comparison and competition with war time salaries, entailed slow progress in the beginning years.

The department was compelled to start at the beginning because of the different character of the North Dakota roads and make standard specifications. It was also compelled to start at the beginning and train contractors in the work necessary to meet government specifications. The first years were years of trial and bringing together the representatives of the county and the representatives of the government in Federal Aid projects.

Federal Aid Cash
Getting down to actual facts, Mr. Kaulfuss pointed out that the Federal Aid projects had already brought $2,000,000 in cash into the state and that the department had been the recipient of $1,500,000 of trucks from the government with which to do road work, while the work which has been accomplished under the State Highway Department had cost the state and government combined about $6,000,000. This includes the money spent on the Missouri river bridge between Bismarck and Mandan.

"As to the type of construction," said Mr. Kaulfuss in continuing the discussion of road costs, "please note that we started out in 1913 with the idea of building state roads that would not average over $1,000 per mile, complete with culverts, bridges, guard rail, rip-rap, etc. That average cost, naturally, because we did not have county commissioners themselves were satisfied with the roads they were getting, partly through the universal increase in prices and partly—some way largely to the regulations and the unwritten engineering requirements of the federal government, increased to over $5,500 per mile in 1920 or over $3,750 per mile to date. The State Highway Department has been in a difficult position in the matter, being between the federal government on the one hand and the counties on the other. In a large measure, the department has been helpless as it is imperative that plans, etc., must be approved by the federal government in order to secure federal aid. Had the counties dealt directly with the federal government, they would have fared no better."

In actual cost," continued Mr. Kaulfuss, "in discussing administration, our administration, etc., averages $500 a mile more than the figure. Compared with California 16 per cent of $10,000 or $15,000 a mile work of $1,000 per mile makes our record an exceedingly good one and California was a going concern when the Federal Aid act was passed and the war broke out."

"Our surveys are made for about $45.00 per mile and our plans for about $55.00 more—a total of about $110 per mile at the time of receiving bids. Missouri contracted much of its surveys alone one year for $100 per mile."

Mr. Kaulfuss then went on to point out that under a survey being made at the present time, it seemed probable that the highways of the state would measure between 90,000 and 100,000 miles while the amount of roads under the state highway system was between 5,000 and 7,000 miles.

Considers State System
"Return to the present state highway system for a moment," he continued, "it comprises 5,000 miles. These are the main roads of the state. The system goes into every county and every county seat. It passes through 88 per cent of the incorporated cities and 61 per cent of the incorporated villages which possess 35% of the urban population. This 5,000 miles is so located that 49 per cent of the total population lives within three miles, 68 per cent within six miles and 85 per cent within twelve miles. It is therefore evident that the state highway system furnishes service to and is used by a large majority of our inhabitants."

"The 1920 road and bridge levy for the state was $3,913,392 (nearly $6,000,000) or $9.15 per capita. In 1919 it was $5,357,021," continued Mr. Kaulfuss, "a presenting the actual figures of road work in the state. It appears therefore we may expect to be expending nearly $6,000,000 annually for roads and bridges not on the state highway system. While the sum may appear large, attention is called to the fact that though the state has about 1-25 of the total highway mileage in the U. S., it expends only about 1-100 per cent of the total for highway improvement."

Says $14,000,000 Wasted
After showing that North Dakota has probably spent $35,000,000 in road projects during the last ten years, and computing that $14,000,000 of this amount has been wasted, Mr. Kaulfuss

MRS. MINA RABER,
Aurora, Ill.

"A short time ago I was one of the most nervous and miserable persons on the earth, but thanks to Tanlac I'm well and happy now," said Mrs. Mina Raber, 446 Farnsworth Ave., Aurora, Ill.

"It was just about two years ago that I began to be distressed after every meal. I had awful smothering spells at times and my heart beat so irregularly that I often thought I wouldn't live through the attack. Headaches were the bane of my existence and I shudder even now when I think of them. My back hurt me, too, and it was just agony for me to bend over and straighten up again."

"Tanlac has done for me far more than I ever expected and I'm like a different person altogether. In fact, I'm in perfect health now. In my opinion, Tanlac is the best medicine under the sun."

fact went on to say:
"And what else can one expect? The fact is not with the County Commissioners or the township officials. These are all honest. They are doing the best they know how. In fact they are to be complimented that they have done as well as they have. And it must be remembered that much of the money has been expended on the worst and therefore the most costly pieces of road."

"The officials are not to blame. The system—and the system alone under which they operate—is at fault. In the past ten years there have been 500 boards of county commissioners and 17,000 boards of township supervisors. To be sure officers on these boards have held over, but the boards are nevertheless quite separate and are certainly not bound by the rules or policies of the board the year previous. This makes a total of 17,500 different units that expend the $55,000,000 in the last ten years—or about $2,000 each for the ten years or about $200 per year for each board. Is it any wonder that no great accomplishment has been made?"

SHERIFF TELLS OF FINDING OF MURDERED GIRL

screens partly open. Of the two doors to the rear, one was sealed and one padlocked. One window was boarded and on one there was a storm window.

This testimony was brought out in the state to show that it was practically impossible for one to make an exit to the rear of the building.

At this time the state introduced in evidence the hotel register for the night of June 12. The witness identified the sheet as register sheet for June 12, 13, 14 and 15. The defense objected to the introduction of the register of June 12. The objection was overruled.

On cross-examination it was brought out that there was a door to the southeast and that this door was bolted; that the screen on the door was locked with a skeleton key. That room 10 was made up before inspected by Lawrence and officers, and that the hose rack was south and east of a water tank. The tank held about 30 gallons and was filled twice a day; ice was on a desk or table about 24 inches square and the tank was about 20 inches in diameter. The hall light was usually turned off after No. 4 got in or about 12 midnight.

Lawrence testified that he went to bed between 11:40 and 12; that the maids had passed keys to rooms; that pass keys were kept on safety pins behind the office desk. It was brought out by Lawrence that to get out the rear door mentioned a person would have to pass through his mother's apartments.

URGENT PEOPLE OF STATE TO KEEP CAPITAL AT HOME

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 20.—The North Dakota Bankers' association has opened a publicity campaign urging North Dakotans to invest their capital in home industries.

Officials of the association, say that many of the merchants of the state, are investing in outside securities when the state, itself, offers attractive rates of interest, with absolute safety to the investor.

Advertisements are being placed in the press of North Dakota by the bankers' association asking investors to thoroughly investigate the many desirable investments offered in North Dakota before sending money into outside hands.

"Every dollar that you have for investment, can be placed at home, at higher rates of interest, with absolutely safety," reads one advertisement prepared by W. C. Macfadden, secretary of the association.

The investor is urged to buy North Dakota real estate mortgages, North Dakota bank warrants, North Dakota school warrants and municipal and other bonds, which if purchased will provide greatly needed funds for state improvements and school purposes.

Officers of the association will furnish any information and can put investors in direct touch with banks having such securities for sale," said Secretary Macfadden.

"The fact alone, that the association takes the stand of sponsoring investments in state warrants, mortgages, municipal and other bonds, shows the faith of the association and the safety assured the investor."

SENATE G. O. P. GIVE APPROVAL TO DEBT BILL

Allied Funding Measure to Come Up In the Senate Monday

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senate Republicans in party conference approved the allied debt refunding bill with the addition of a provision that the interest rate upon the refund bonds should be not less than that fixed in the Liberty Loan acts authorizing the loan to the allied nations. This rate is 4-3-4 per cent or one-quarter of one per cent less than the rate stipulated in the obligations of the denior nations now held by the treasury.

This was the only change in the bill as reported by the finance commission and which the conference approved. It was announced that the vote on the added provision was 22 to 8 and was taken after the conference had voted down 24 to 14 an amendment by Senator Smoot of Utah, that the commission which is to conduct the refunding negotiations should not have the right to fix a rate of interest at less than five per cent.

Party leaders said it was the plan to take the bill up in the senate on Monday and to press for its passage, the amended measure having been formally approved by the conference. The Republicans already have voted to take up a soldier bonus bill as soon as the refunding measure is disposed of. It was said there would be further party conference to determine a policy as to the method of raising the necessary funds to finance the bonus.

There were two conferences today with many changes in the refunding bill suggested, but not approved. A motion by Senator Francis of Maryland, to strike out the provision for a commission and to confer the entire authority on the president, was defeated. It was announced, by a vote of 31 to 7.

It was also stated that a motion by Senator Phillips of Colorado to strike out the requirement that the bonds mature not later than June 15, 1947, was defeated, 32 to 5. Another motion lost was by Senator Hargis of Oklahoma, which would have provided that the payment of the interest on the bonds be deferred for a period of not more than three years.

SPECULATION MANIA TAKES ROOT IN CHINA

Shanghai, Jan. 20.—(By Mail)—Efforts of certain Chinese of Shanghai to launch out in imitation of great American trading centers with the formation by wholesale of stock and brokerage exchanges have been fraught with so much financial havoc that not only has the Peking government set about to take action, but the foreign police authorities of the International Settlement as well, has begun to show concern.

The past year in Shanghai has seen the formation of scores of "exchanges" ostensibly opened for the purpose of trading, generally in staples, but also in every form of commodity. Operating without restraints of any kind, shares, stocks and commodities of every sort have been dealt with in the abandon of a get-rich-quick era which now has begun to prove most distressing to many victims.

Portions of a recently issued official Shanghai police report on the situation are given as follows: "Speculation mania took deep root after the rapid formation of many exchanges and persons who in their saner moments would never have consented to part with their cash unless for some safe and profitable investment were attracted by the glamor of large fortunes.

"On the other hand not a few families were ruined and cases of suicide and attempted suicide occurred. The situation presented a strong temptation to employees in places of trust to make their fortunes by what appeared to them to be a few simple transactions with the temporary loan of their employers' money.

"Numbers of employees absconded after having embezzled sums of money. A rough estimate of the total amount of money thus reported lost places the figure well over $1,000,000. In addition men who had hitherto been respected for their integrity and regarded as strong financially disappeared.

WHY PICK ON US?

The woods are full of amateur economists who claim that prices of groceries will shortly return to pre-war levels. Will they? Yes, they sure will—

When hard coal is back to $9.00 per ton

When railroad fares are back to 2c per mile

When gasoline is back to 10c per gallon

When house rent is back to $5.00 per month

When a square meal can be had for a quarter

When farm labor is back to $15.00 per month

When shaves are back to 10c

When freight rates from New York, now $1.84, are back to 97c

When clothes are back to $15.00 a suit

When money is back to 5 per cent

When cooks are back to $5.00 per week

When haircuts are back to a quarter

When movies are back to a nickel

When a car wash is back to a dollar

When ice cream is back to a dime

When a doctor's call is back to two bucks

When a newspaper is back to a penny

For the love of Mike, who expects the manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer of groceries to go the route above? Why expect it and no one else to go back to pre-war prices? Why pick on us?

We are ahead "way ahead" at the present time. Now let the barbers and the movie houses, and the standard oil and the soft drink parlor, and the landlords and the hotels and the tapers and the draymen and the bankers cut their prices and catch an "ouch" as it were, for us to pick on someone. We've been the "left boys" enough.

In another column we saw our large list of groceries at pre-war prices.

Just cut this out to show that we are sure on the right level as our goods have declined as a whole fully 33 1/3%.
